BIOGRAPHY

THE INNERTAINER™

While his friends were holding ice cream cones at the young age of 8, Victor Pacini was holding a microphone. He hasn't looked back. His inspiring presentations landed him two Honorary PTA Membership Credentials from the states of Indiana and Kansas.

After graduating from Columbia College in Chicago with a Graphic Design degree, he set out to become the lead designer at a firm but somehow never forgot his other true passion. He has taken his passion for both graphic design and singing and designed life-changing, inspirational, and motivational programs for children, teens, and adults.

Victor dazzled the audience in 2004 when bestselling author and speaker Dr. Wayne Dyer invited Victor to sing during his Power of Intention Tour.

Victor is the author of two books, My Dreams and Winning Within; three books on CD, The Camel & The Saint, Mission: I'm Possible, and I'll Take An Order Of My Dream But Hold The I Can't; and two music CD's, From The Playground, and One Song. Victor's latest recordings are available on itunes.

Victor delivers the "WOW" factor audiences want and the essential content that schools/organizations are looking for. His programs are a balance of high-energy, humor, and thought-provoking moments. His interactive format incorporates music and a variety of multi-media approaches. He creates an experience where people walk away with an increased positive self-regard and improved outlook on life.
